

RESPECTING RIGHTS: MY VOICE, MY CHOICE

Your Legal Right to Make Decisions about Your Money

In Ontario, the law says that adults can make their own decisions about their money and property.

This includes decisions about how to spend your money, whether to apply for ODSP, Passport or other benefits, and managing an RDSP.

In some situations your right to make decisions about your money and property can be taken away.

Sometimes the law allows other people to make these decisions for you. If you are in this situation, try to get legal advice.

If you are a person with a disability living in Ontario and you want legal advice about your right to make decisions about your money, call ARCH: 1-866-482-

MY MONTHLY BUDGET

RESPECTING RIGHTS: MY VOICE, MY CHOICE

Your Legal Right to Make Decisions about Your Money

In Ontario, the law says that adults can make their own decisions about their money and property.

This includes decisions about how to spend your money, whether to apply for ODSP, Passport or other benefits, and managing an RDSP.

In some situations your right to make decisions about your money and property can be taken away.

Sometimes the law allows other people to make these decisions for you. If you are in this situation, try to get legal advice.

If you are a person with a disability living in Ontario and you want legal advice about your right to make decisions about your money, call ARCH: 1-866-482-

MY MONTHLY BUDGET

THINK ABOUT ...

Are there times you were not supported to be involved in decisions about your money?

Some people may need support to help them make their own decisions about their money and property.

For example, some people need help to make a budget. A budget is a plan which can help you understand how much money you have, how much you have to spend on things you need like food, housing and bills, and how much is left to spend on things you want.

Getting support to make your own decisions about your money doesn't mean you can't make your own decisions.

A support person (perhaps your worker, a family member) can help you make decisions about your money, but the decisions are still up to you.

CONTACT US

Respecting Rights
Coordinator: Sue Hutton

 huttons@lao.on.ca

1-866-482-2724(Toll free)

416-482-8255 (Toronto)

416-482-1254 (TTY)

Extension: 2227

Staff/Parent Tip ...

Are there ways that the person with a disability in your life can be more involved in decision making about their money?

Are they supported to make choices about their spending, in whatever way they can be? It's their money.

THINK ABOUT ...

Are there times you were not supported to be involved in decisions about your money?

Some people may need support to help them make their own decisions about their money and property.

For example, some people need help to make a budget. A budget is a plan which can help you understand how much money you have, how much you have to spend on things you need like food, housing and bills, and how much is left to spend on things you want.

Getting support to make your own decisions about your money doesn't mean you can't make your own decisions.

A support person (perhaps your worker, a family member) can help you make decisions about your money, but the decisions are still up to you.

CONTACT US

Respecting Rights
Coordinator: Sue Hutton

 huttons@lao.on.ca

1-866-482-2724(Toll free)

416-482-8255 (Toronto)

416-482-1254 (TTY)

Extension: 2227

Staff/Parent Tip ...

Are there ways that the person with a disability in your life can be more involved in decision making about their money?

Are they supported to make choices about their spending, in whatever way they can be? It's their money.